DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 20, 22, 25, 26, 28, 31, 32, and 36 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6689151. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the application claim is merely broader than the patent claim. The structural limitations set forth in claims 20, 22, 25, 26, 28, 31, 32, and 36 of the instant application are also claimed in the patent, e.g., a proximal region, an intermediate region, a distal region, and a tapering distal portion.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 20-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Becker et al. 6165152.

5. Becker et al. teaches a proximal region having a proximal end and a distal end; an intermediate region extending distally from the proximal region, the intermediate region increasing in outer dimension from a proximal end of the intermediate region to a distal end thereof; a distal portion extending distally from the intermediate region, the distal portion including a proximal end having an outer dimension that is greater than the outer dimension of the distal end of the intermediate region; wherein the distal portion distally tapers in wall thickness along at least a portion of its length; wherein the proximal region of the delivery sheath has a constant outer dimension; wherein the distally tapering wall thickness is formed by distally decreasing the outside dimension of the delivery sheath (col. 5, lines 27-36); wherein the distal portion includes a distal region, a reduced diameter region, and a distal tip region; and wherein the distal tip region is a closed distal tip region (col. 5, lines 16-17).

6. As to claims 25, 31, and 36, the function recitation that the delivery sheath is configured to accommodate an intravascular emboli capturing device therein has not been given patentable weight because it is narrative in form. In order to be given patentable weight, a function recitation must be expressed as a "means" for performing the specified function, as set forth in 35 USC § 112, 6TH paragraph, and must be supported by recitation in the claim of sufficient structure to warrant the presence of the function language. In re Fuller, 1929 C.D. 172; 388 O.G. 279.
